How to read the list:

See how many extra places are available, after all competitors of the 1st invitation round (usually 2 per NAC) have inscribed.

Go to the relevant line of the list and find the no. of additional invitations to be sent out to the single NAC.

Example:
 If 80 places are available in total and 50 competitors have inscribed in the 1st round, then the no. of extra places available is 30.

In line 30 you find, that GER will receive 4 additional invitations, HUN will receive 3, ESP 3, SUI 2, NED 4, LTU 2, and so on.

The no. of additional invitations is independent from the 3 medal holders which will receive a personal invitation.

This is the allocation table of extra places according the newly approved Rule 5.6.2.2 of Sporting Code Section 1. The table shows the allocation up to 30 additional places. (Should more become available it will of course be consequently enlarged.)

5.6.2 ADDITIONAL INVITATIONS

5.6.2.1 The organisers may choose to accommodate more competitors than the minimum stated in 5.6.1.2 and the organising NAC may issue additional invitations to each NAC according to the ranking method in 5.6.2.2

After the date of the deadline when invited NACs must have responded and taken up their initial invitations, only to those NACs who have taken up all of their initial invitations within the published time limits shall be considered for additional invitations.

5.6.2.2 The Ranking Method

The ranking method is as follows:

The number of additional invitations to each NAC shall be according to each NAC's ranking positions in the final results in the previous similar event. Invitations shall be allocated to each NAC in the same order as that NAC's ranking positions in the previous event.

The invitation of additional pilots may be performed in several steps, each with its own deadline for return of entry forms and payment of entry fee. A further round starts where the previous round ended.

Invitations may be sent out until all available places are taken, up to the maximum total number of competitors the organizer is prepared to accommodate but in no case later than 90 days for World Championships and 60 days for Continental Championships before the start of the event.

After the last published deadline only invitations according to 5.6.5.2 may be issued.

5.6.2.3 Limitation

When using the ranking method in 5.6.2.2, no NAC shall have more competitors than 10% of the total number of competitors the organizer is prepared to accommodate. The current medal holders, invited under rule 5.6.1.2 are not included in this limit.
